YORK
Archives

Drawing from our past, the York Archives provides access to thousands and thousands of document designs dating back to the early 18th century. York's revered Archives are an inexhaustible source of inspiration and reference for the artists, designers, and stylists who create the beautiful images that become York wallpapers.

Look for this logo throughout the catalog to find York Archives designs.

Surface Print

Surface Print is the oldest automated printing method still in use today which utilizes raised images on an engraved roller to transfer colors to a continuous reel of paper. A heavy lay-down of inks, wet-on-wet printing, and a less exact image outline give this type of printing a very distinct look that is impossible to duplicate with modern presses.

Look for this logo throughout the catalog to find Surface Print Designs.

IMPERIAL DAMASK
